Lincoln City, OR:

Last night's wind shift changed the winds coming from east to a southwest wind ending the fire making huge runs westward towards Lincoln City. Currently the fire activity is low: creeping and smoldering within the fire perimeter. After being at the fire today, Matt Thomas, ODF Protection Unit Forester, stated " Today's weather is allowing the fire fighters to gain traction and make progress towards extinguishing this fire".

Fire operations is being assisted by local resources including equipment and employees from Hancock Forest Management, Weyerhaeuser Company and Miami Corporation and the Confederate Tribes of Grand Ronde.

Oregon Department of Forestry appreciates the partnership with the local fire and rescue squads especially North Lincoln Fire and Rescue, Newport Fire Department, Depoe Bay Fire and Rescue as well as the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office and Oregon Department of Transportation for their assistance since the beginning of this incident.

Tonight's weather forecast is for continued winds from the southwest 3-5 mph with high relative humidity recovery and mild temperatures in the 50's. This will keep the fire low to the ground and fire fighters will continue working through the night.
